The Town receives statements that includes the number of miles patrolled, arrests, tickets and warnings. The Lamoille County Sheriff's Department committed to supply the Town with stationary Speed signs in an effort to reduce speeding within the Town of Elmore. 6. EXECUTIVE OR DELIBERATIVE SESSION AS NEEDED

Lamoille Area Health and Human Services Response Command Center

Overview

A week after Governor Scott issued the Stay Home, Stay Safe order, a group of Lamoille area health and human services leaders convened. The goal: share information so we could serve our community until the crisis lifted. Quickly, it was clear ongoing need would be enormous, and we adopted the incident command structure.

A year later, the Lamoille Area Health and Human Services Response Command Center (LAH2S-RCC) is still at it. Our unprecedented collaboration includes more than 30 organizations and 70 people. Operations teams are: food, shelter, healthcare, mental health and substance misuse, and employment. These teams are comprised of people already doing the work, with leaders who are central to the incident command.

Every two weeks, the command meets to align on three objectives with measurable goals. Objectives range from finding housing solutions to informing people about vaccination plans to resolving a food systems issue. With people across organizations pulling in the same direction, the team rapidly solves problems involving multiple agencies and sectors. Objectives often lead to ongoing collaborative work.

LAH2s-RCC includes four elements that previously were missing from area-wide work:

- Public information: ensures the entire area is aware of evolving realities and resources. Utilizes a communications system custom built for the Lamoille area: weekly newsletter, resource page, traditional media, social media.
- Planning: provides backbone supports such as data-tracking, documentation of meetings, internal communications.
- Finance and administration: provides support to operations team, including grant writing, event planning, and support.
- Commanders: set measurable goals based on the shifting realities and needs, coordination, synthesizing.

Now, we are moving towards a sustainable model that will maintain the high levels of public information and support coordination. We want to sustain the organized collaboration that we have built through the COVID crisis and the systems-wide functions — resources that our health and human service organizations do not have in house.

Successes

Substance misuse

- Objective to support the mental health and substance misuse ops team in their efforts to reduce overdoses. Goals: 1. wide community distribution of Narcan and harm reduction packs, 2. community awareness of mental health resources, risk reduction, and other mental health initiatives. Effort involved more than five different organizations, plus the planning and public information officers.
 - At least 9 overdoses this year prevented through harm reduction packs

Quotes

From a community member:

“About the Localvore app. I got your email and signed up. I was wondering what I was going to feed everyone. This school vacation is expensive! My bank account is in the negative until Wednesday and we have no food in the house beyond school snacks and PB&J. So it is a huge help! I just forwarded the email with the info to a friend.”

From a selectboard member:

“Knowing that this group was an umbrella resource that had interconnected knowledge of the state of play in the county and our community, WAS HUGE! When I first came on to the Selectboard, each group was much more siloed and now through all that LAHHS-RCC has achieved, there is a much clearer picture of need and how we might target and address these issues!”
